I also assist with reformatting the art director's designs into multiple media formats, each with different size requirements.

Lead Designer; Designed and juggled multiple projects at a time for various clients, ranging from brand identity, campaigns, events, web and social media, all under tight deadlines. Majority of the designs were translated for large scale signage and live events. Collaborated heavily within the Communications department as well as with clients and efficiently managed time to work independently. Contributed to the design strategy and followed conceptualization through to completion and very hands-on with production work and print processes.
